Swasthya Sathi road show

Chandrima Bhattacharya, minister of state for health and family welfare, in presence of other dignitaries from her department and Bajaj Allianz General Insurance flagged off a road show in Kolkata for creating awareness on the state's flagship mass health protection scheme 'Swasthya Sathi'. The aim of this road show was to make people aware of the government-sponsored health insurance as a significant assistance that covers medical expenses during hospitalisations without payment of any premium by the beneficiary.
