Pune, May 2

BAJAJ ALLIANZ GENERAL Insurance has automated its recruitment process with the introduction of its first virtual employee – Eve – which will represent the company's automated Talent Acquisition Portal called Tal.Port.

With this, the company has introduced robotic video interviews process for job-seekers.

The new portal aims to bring enhanced efficiency in filtering the right candidates for offered opportunities.

The company also launched HR Assistant, an AI-powered chatbot Buddy for its employees, which will help them to resolve their HR queries and applications. Eve and Buddy are powered by machine learning and AI.

The platform will capture candidate's aptitude and behavioural aspects as well as essential technical skills.
